

March 24 News Sheet

Saturday morning activities held at Mango.

One of the things that makes Children of the Dump support different for the children are the regular Saturday morning activities held at Mango House.

It's a chance for the children who live at Mango House to meet some of the Grapevine programme children who live at home with their parents and go to a variety of different public schools depending on where they live. Extra tuition and support are available from the fabulous teachers. Students have access to Wi-Fi, computers, and study space to do their school homework as often the facilities in their own homes are not ideal for quiet studying.

There is also a focus on fun and games, and everyone joins in. Often the older children enjoy leading the younger children in their activities along with the regular staff. It is an important way for children of different ages to come together as an extended family. The extra study support is of course helpful in getting ahead in schooling during the following week, but the activities are also a highly successful way to develop the confidence and social skills of these young people who haven't always had the easiest start in life. Anyone who has been there on a Saturday knows just how joyful and full of laughter these occasions are. Click on the video link to get a taste of this hubbub!

<https://bit.ly/CotDCupgame>

Since Children of the Dump signed up to easyfundraising.com just before Christmas just 30 of our supporters have raised an extra £320 for free for the charity. Find out how here.

You too can raise money for free if you shop online. Download the app to your phone from your app store to your phone or sign up here. Make sure that you choose Children of the Dump to benefit.

<https://www.easyfundraising.org.uk/causes/childrenofthedump/>

To go shopping just visit easyfundraising and then just one click will then take you to your regular online shop. Same prices, same products, and services but you raise money for the children at no cost to you. Magic!

Easyfundraising works because 1000s of brands give a share of what you spend to easyfundraising. They then pass on money directly to Children of the Dump.

Regular online grocery orders are a brilliant way to contribute; Sainsbury, Tesco, Waitrose, Morrisons, ASDA and Ocado all take part. Pets at Home, Zooplus are there. And Argos, etsy and ebay.

Maybe you are planning a trip; Booking.com pay 4% of your booking value. Hotel.com, Holiday Inn, Travelodge and The Trainline all take part. Airport parking and car hire are also here.

If you are looking to switch insurance or utility suppliers then Moneysupermarket, USwitch and Compare the market all make generous donations if you change providers through them.

The biggest challenge is to remember to use Easyfunding when shopping. When prompted we suggest downloading the donation reminder prompt to help.

Changing young lives, one at a time.

Caring and educating vulnerable children in the Philippines.

Registered Charity Number 1198301 Tel: 01276-942030

e-mail: office@childrenofthedump.org.uk

www.childrenofthedump.org.uk