

Banstead United Reformed Church

Banstead United Reformed Church (Banstead URC) is an inclusive, welcoming church community in Banstead, Surrey, bringing together people of mixed ages and backgrounds to worship God and follow the teachings of Jesus in everyday life. Sunday worship takes place at 10:30am (with the option to join online via Zoom), and the church aims to be a supportive, encouraging community that shares God's love locally and helps new families and individuals feel at home in church life.

The church's mission is simple and outward-looking: to love God, welcome all, and care for one another, the local community, and the wider world. Alongside Sunday services, Banstead URC has an active church family life, including a Sunday Club for children and young people, which also encourages charitable giving and practical compassion.

We have a long-standing connection with Children of the Dump, and we're grateful to support their work. Over the years, we've been able to show our encouragement and generosity in practical ways — including taking a special collection for the Big Give, alongside other gifts and support during particularly challenging times. We choose to support Children of the Dump because their mission closely reflects our own commitment to welcome, care, and practical help — standing alongside vulnerable children and families, not only in our local community, but also further afield.
